MEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL: 1986-87 YEAR IN REVIEW

The Concordia men's varsity basketball team mounted a tremendous comeback at the end of the 1986-87 season, capturing the Quebec University Athletic Association (QUAA) championship and gaining a berth in the Nationals.

Unfortunately a Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU) title in Halifax eluded the Stingers but head coach Doug Daigneault's troops represented Concordia well.

The Stingers finished with an overall record of 17-13. Daigneault, who was named QUAA Coach of the Year for the seventh time, reeled in his 12th conference title in 21 years behind the bench. After nipping Trois Rivières 72-68 before a jam packed crowd at the Loyola gym in the semi-final the Stingers whipped McGill 86-73 in the final at the Arthur Currie gymnasium. School spirit was once again at its best with students from both universities cheering their favorite team on.

Veteran five year guard Craig Norman, who would later be named a second team CIAU All Canadian, was selected to the QUAA ALL Star team for his fourth time.

Concordia headed into the Nationals on a six game winning streak, thanks in large part to the incredible comeback of five year veteran centre Rob Latter.

Latter was feared lost for the season back in December when he underwent back surgery. He was flat on his back for five weeks and when he told Daigneault in mid-January he'd return to the lineup before the end of the schedule the coach was reluctant to share his optimism.

But true to his word, the six-foot-eight Latter was back in uniform for the team's final 10 games of the year during which time they went from battling Bishop's for the last remaining playoff spot to upsetting McGill in the final.

Facing Number One ranked Brandon in the opening round of the Nationals at the Halifax Met Centre, Concordia lost 87-70. Latter scored 27 points in that game and was voted Most Valuable Player.

In the Consolation semi final St. Mary's edged the Stingers 85-82.

On the year, Daigneault had to be most satisfied with his club's performance over the 30 games it played.

Over...

Next season the coach will have at least two major gaps to fill in his lineup with the graduation of Norman and Latter. Freshmen Nick Arvanitis and Marlon Paul, who often looked like veterans out on the court, will be expected to assume leadership roles.

Arvanitis, a scholarship recipient out of Vanier College, averaged over 13 points a game. Paul joined the team at mid-season and played a number of games with a broken toe.

The Stingers hosted two tournaments at the Loyola Campus: the Pony Tip-Off and the London Life Centennial. In the former affair it was the powerful Molson Canadian All-Stars beating the home team 108-68 in the final while the latter saw McGill take top honors by defeating Ottawa. Concordia knocked off Bridgewater State 88-84 to win the consolation title.
